

Long Range Planning Or Improvements As Needed? Mayor Asks

Newmarket — Roads, schools, sewage, water supply and a new fire hall were summed up by Mayor Jos. Vale as problems facing the town council at a meeting Tuesday night. During a discussion about making improvements to the roads the mayor pointed out that council must sort out the most important improvements to be tackled first.

"There is the possibility of a need for a sewage disposal plant in a few years, something must be done about a place for the new fire truck immediately, and I don't think there is anyone who will deny that we need new roads," said the mayor. "Are we going to make the improvements as we are forced to or are we going to lay out a long range plan?" he asked council.

The proposal for a new public school on a site near the former camp property by the public school board made to the council at a joint meeting nearly four months ago was brought forth again. The council decided that the board should be asked to look into the possibility of going into a joint school project with certain twp. boards.

As council went deeper into road discussion, it was found that the recent costs per year for oiling roads would pay the interest on a debenture to repair and pave Newmarket streets. With improved roads, the oil costs would be wiped out and the money would go into interest payment.

Newmarket — With a charge of manslaughter laid against him, Leonard James Carnahan, Farnham Ave., Toronto, appeared in court last Friday morning before Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake. Carnahan was the driver of the car that struck and killed Mrs. John Bowser, Aurora, on Yonge St. at the southern outskirts of Aurora the evening of Saturday, Sept. 4. The accused is on $2,000 property bail. An amendment to the charge will defer Magistrate Hollinrake's judgment until two weeks after the hearing.

Seek Water Supply South Of Armitage

Newmarket — The water committee of the town council was authorized at a special meeting on Tuesday night to drill two test holes for water south of Armitage on Yonge St. at a location selected by the International Water Supply Co.

The recent attempts to get water ended in insufficient supplies in each hole drilled. Most of the holes produce a supply in the range of 40 gallons per minute and the desired supply is 500 gallons per minute at the minimum.

A representative of the International Water Supply Co. which has been drilling test holes attended the council meeting to determine what next move was to be taken. The last test hole was drilled on D'Arcy St. west of the war memorial and proved to be unsuccessful. Before that an attempt had been made in the area of Hamilton's Corners, north-east of Newmarket.

The town policy has been to increase the number of sources for water supply as the town grows, and in the last 15 years, 28 holes have been drilled. Of the 28, two were efficient enough to use.

One councillor estimated that it would cost from $60,000 to $80,000 to install pumping equipment if a source was found in the area south of Armitage.

In the event that the proposed test holes are unsuccessful, council will consider further possibilities behind the water works building.

Hydro Power Quotas Cut Again Save Voluntarily Or Switches Pulled, Newmarket, Aurora Warn Public

Aurora — A thirty-three per cent cut has brought Aurora down to a daily quota of 16,000 kilowatt hours. William Large, secretary of the hydro commission, said this morning that daily consumption has been between 23,000 and 24,000 kwh. per day and that home consumers will have to cut down on their consumption or switches will have to be pulled.

Last night a meeting was held with the industries and representatives of all factories have promised to do what they can. Industry heads said that if unions would agree, they would continue working hours on Saturdays with Mondays off, otherwise every means would be used to conserve power.

Superintendent of the hydro commission, Charles Copland, is campaigning the public in every possible way. Dodgers have been issued to consumers warning that they will be cut off if the consumption is not lowered to the quota figures.

Drama Club Installed In Former Print Shop

Newmarket — A different kind of drama will return this year to what was once the Newmarket Express-Herald office and printing plant on Cedar St. The Newmarket Dramatic club will rent the building for the coming season and use it for a club room and a stage for rehearsals.

President of the club, Charles Boyd, said the club hopes to have the room furnished and arranged as a stage. Any contributions, he said, such as costume clothing, drapes and any kind of furniture to be used as stage props would be appreciated by the club.

A new play, Curtain Cue, written by Dorothy Muir Bowman and directed by her, is now in the first stages of rehearsal and will be produced October 26, 27 and 28. Armchair critics agree that it will be a good show.

The date for a Dramatic club open meeting has been set at Monday, Sept. 27, 8.15 p.m., at the Veterans' Dug-out. Prospective members and all those who are interested in the club are invited to attend.

It's Up To You - Editorial

New Newmarket quota	19,500 kwh.
Power used Monday	26,400 kwh.
Tuesday	22,900 kwh.
Wednesday	22,000 kwh.

There are no ifs and buts about the need to reduce hydro consumption. Regardless of the cause, the need to save power is most pressing. The alternative is to pull the switches. If this happens, it means lost time, and lost time means reduced pay-rolls.

Hydro saving is not something your neighbor does. It is what you and you can do. One dollar knocked off your monthly electric bill means a saving of 125 kilowatt hours.

No one is going to peek into your kitchen to see if that hot water heater is off. But unless you do turn them off, switches will have to be pulled. It is as simple as that.

Newmarket beat the power cuts last year with a fine co-operative effort. The reduction asked of Newmarket this year seems impossible. Perhaps it is and for all the effort, industries may have to stagger shifts and work weekends. But every bit of saving lessens that possibility, and that saving is up to you!

Small Tar Fire Sends Up Thick Smoke

Newmarket — As the fire alarm blew six times yesterday, black clouds of smoke poured out of the alley south of the Bell Telephone office and were carried toward the post office by an east wind, almost blocking vision up and down Main St.

Behind the Bell office, workmen had been heating tar in a melting pot which was being used for roofing the building over the office. One of the men pulled out the plug from the melting pot to fill up a bucket and at the same time a gust of wind fanned some hot coals in the fire box and flames swirled around the workman's arm. He was unable to put the plug back in and in a second the tar spread over the ground in flames.

At the sight of the smoke, many around Main St. expected a more serious fire. The Newmarket brigade extinguished the flames with a hand extinguisher.

The public is advised that in case of fire, anyone turning in the alarm should turn the crank in the fire box once and if there is no whistle, turn it again. These instructions are on fire alarm number cards. The reason is to prevent a false alarm, which sometimes occurs, especially around schools. Turning the crank on the magneto knocks over a metal plate at the water works which rings a bell. The plate is replaced and the water works official waits for the sea and turn of the crank before sounding the alarm. On a voluntary brigade system a false alarm unnecessarily takes away a number of men from their jobs.

Winkworth acted as radio announcer while the mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. F. Breckon. Quizzes with everyone participating, a large attendance and an abundance of prizes made for an evening of good fellowship. Lunch was served by the members of the Ladies' Aid.

York County Doctors Have Annual Meeting

On Wednesday, Sept. 8, the annual meeting of No. 5 district of the Ontario Medical Association was held at the Royal Simcoe hotel with York County acting as host society. While the doctors met during the morning, their wives gathered at Dr. L. W. Dales' Lake Simcoe cottage for coffee, relaxing their husbands at luncheon at the Royal Simcoe hotel.

The afternoon was spent with the ladies enjoying bridge and afternoon tea at the Briar's Golf and Country club at Sutton while two specialists, Prof. W. Ford Connell of Queens University, and Dr. F. I. Lewis of Toronto presented papers before the medical meeting. Dr. W. Bartlett of Brampton was re-elected councillor of the Ontario Medical Association. The special speaker at dinner was Dr. Joselyn Rogers, Toronto, noted criminologist, who told of his work of solving crime through chemistry. Over 125 were present. Dr. G. M. Peever, Newmarket, is president.

—Mrs. W. R. Ashenbush visited her sister, Mrs. H. Crowder, recently.

—Miss Ina Baehle spent the weekend visiting Mrs. Edgar Deavitt, Ravenshoe.

—We are glad to see Mr. Jas. Denne able to be out after his recent illness.

Newmarket — Effective Wednesday, Newmarket had its hydro power quota cut again, from 21,200 kwh. to 19,500, with hydro officials foreseeing additional cuts in the fall months to come.

The most recent quota reduction means that Newmarket must reduce its power consumption from its normal of two weeks ago of 28,000 kwh. Monday of this week, Newmarket used 26,400 kwh.

If the saving cannot be made voluntarily, then there is no alternative but to pull switches each day until the saving is made. Newmarket hydro chairman, Fred Thompson, warns.

Monday night, representatives of industry met with the hydro commission to discuss methods of reducing the consumption of hydro power in the factories. Hydro officials explained that power used in the daytime was a combination of Quebec and Niagara power. At night and on weekends, Quebec power is cut off, but Niagara power continues.

They advised that by switching to night shifts or working on weekends and using Niagara power, it would reduce the drain on Quebec power where low water levels have caused the shortage. Industrial representatives discussed the possibility of night and weekend shifts to reduce the consumption during the week days.

In the meantime, to avoid changing working hours, the hydro commission issued a strong demand to householders to shut off all electric hot water heaters from 11 a.m. to midnight from Monday to Friday, and to cut off all electric heaters of every other kind Monday to Friday, both days inclusive.

Save 300 K.W.H. Daily Turn Off Street Lights

Newmarket — Street lights have been turned off at 1 a.m. every morning since Tuesday. Town council had a special meeting late Monday afternoon and at the request of Fred Thompson, chairman of the hydro commission, passed a motion to have the lights turned off. Mayor Vale said that 272 and one-half kilowatt hours would be saved by turning them off at 2 a.m. and that by turning them off at 1 a.m., over 300 would be saved. Last week the lights were turned on as late as possible in the evening and turned off as early as possible in the morning.

Name Woods York Federal Candidate

Richmond Hill — A. H. Woods of Newmarket was unanimously chosen the C.C.F. federal candidate for York North at a widely representative nominating convention last Saturday in the Masonic hall here. Others whose names were proposed are P. A. Deacon, Downsview; T. A. Weaver, Richmond Hill; Jack Dickman, Melrose; and Harold Ghent, Newmarket, withdrew in favor of Mr. Woods.

Officers of the York North C.C.F. Association elected for the coming year at the annual meeting which preceded the nominating convention are: pres., T. A. Weaver of Richmond Hill, who was re-elected; first vice-pres., Harold Ghent, Newmarket; second vice-pres., Adam Reiter, Thornhill; sec., Jack Dickman, Melrose; treas., Don Simpson, Downsview. Fifteen additional members of the council were elected to represent the various municipalities of the riding.

Guest speaker at the public meeting which followed the convention was the member of parliament for Ontario county, Arthur Williams, whose dry wit evoked considerable laughter. The speaker stated that it was the existence of social justice kept the issue of social justice alive in Canada. "Even in opposition, the C.C.F. performs a valuable service," he contended. "Progressive measures, few as they are, brought forward by old party governments, are the result of pressure by the C.C.F. The two most important things in the lives of the people are homes and health. Our governments, provincial and federal, make no provision for either. Through the direct action of the labor government more homes have been built and repaired in Britain since the end of the war than there are houses from Toronto to the Rocky Mountains."

Mr. and Mrs. George Calver were presented with a pair of blankets in recognition of Mr. Calver's work as organizer for the party in the north end of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Calver have moved from Mount Albert to Renfrew.

The family resided in Aurora until two years ago when they moved to Toronto. While in Aurora Mrs. Crockett was active in the affairs of Aurora United church. She had been in ill health for the past few years. Interment was at Aurora cemetery. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Jarvis Harrison (Jenn), and Mrs. Clinton Felker (Jessie), both of Toronto.

S.A. SEEK $2,000

Newmarket — With J. O. Little chairman, the Salvation Army campaign launches into its second week in a drive for a Newmarket and district objective of $2,000. The money will be used for the Salvation Army in its social service work. Unlike other appeals, a goodly portion of the money collected in the district will be spent here in local service work. Lieutenant Henderson is Salvation Army representative in Newmarket.

No Gang At Aurora Deny City Papers' Tale

Aurora — Discounting city newspaper reports that a Toronto gang of hoodlums struck a man with a lead pipe or attacked a group of people in Aurora, Chief Constable Fisher Dunham said that there was a scuffle in a restaurant but that it was the result of someone getting pushed too hard. After the Saturday night dances at Wilcox Lake, there are usually some gatherings and rowdiness in restaurants, he said.

The four or five connected with the disturbance Saturday night, referred to by a Toronto newspaper as the "McCormack gang," include some young men who live outside of Aurora and work in Toronto, said Chief Dunham. He intimated some possibility of a feud between them and others who were supposed, according to city reports, to have been attacked in a restaurant.

He said a lot of such disturbances are played up and there are attempts to associate them with the highly publicized Toronto gangs. "Too much publicity makes them think they are smart," he said. The incident Saturday night occurred around closing time at an Aurora restaurant on Yonge St.

ALWAYS VIGILANT

Newmarket — Hydro conservation must be kept up at all times. Mayor Joseph Vale set an example at a special council meeting on Tuesday night showing that even the council in its own chamber is on its toes during the hydro shortage. During a discussion on an important civic problem, the mayor rose to his feet, walked away from the table and turned out two unnecessary lights.

GUEST SPEAKER

Aurora — Rev. Gerald S. Despard, former rector, will be the guest speaker at the annual Harvest Home service at Trinity church being held this evening at 8 p.m. Following the service, a reception will be held in the parish hall with the retiring rector, Rev. R. K. Perdue, and Mrs. Perdue as guests of honor.

Health Nurse Has Busy Round Of Duties In The Schools

Newmarket — Public health supervision is not often on the minds of the public yet this effective service protects every school child from communicable diseases through the school year, detects any illness or abnormality in school children and often results in proper treatment for children which otherwise might not have been carried out.

The work of the public health nurse is not spectacular in the public eye and it is probably for this reason that not everyone is aware of her work. Miss Clara S. Kittner, public health nurse for Newmarket, as soon after the opening of school as possible, makes a rapid inspection of school children which includes the condition of the skin, glands, and any evidence of communicable disease. This year has had a good record at the beginning of school term with only four among the new pupils excluded from school.

After the quick inspection, clerical work for the year is put in shape and questionnaires are sent out to parents so information can be put on each child's record. Every child in Newmarket's schools has a health record card and a list is made of those who have to or have been protected against disease by inoculation or vaccination. So far this term there are a number of children for whom forms have not been returned. When the forms are returned, they will show whether parents wish to have their children inoculated, whether they have had certain inoculations before and whether they will have the family physician do it. When all information is returned, the inoculations are carried out at the schools.

The next step by the public health nurse is to make special physical examinations of beginners that were not inspected in June by the nurse or doctor. Children that were kept under observation the previous year are inspected again and also any child a teacher might notice to be apparently below physical par.

Vision and hearing tests are given. The beginner's vision tests are held a while after the beginning of school so that a true test can be obtained after they have adjusted themselves to school. Then children nine and ten years of age are re-tested. After this work is done, the nurse makes a thorough classroom inspection. Each grade has one of these inspections every year and if the need is detected in any child, a special physical examination is given to him at an early date.

A teacher's weight chart is brought in for marking and each child's weight is taken seven times during the school year. The public health nurse has found that all these inspections and checks make the average child more health conscious. When physical findings are abnormal, a duplicate copy of the child's health record card is made out and is taken by the nurse while making home visits.

The public health nurse is to allot one-fifth of her time to carry out the work inside the schools as has been outlined above. It is evident that she must accomplish a lot in this small amount of time considering especially that it takes approximately a full morning to do physical inspections on eight or ten school children.

The other four-fifths of her time is well spent. Home visiting is a follow-up of the school work to discuss the findings of defects in children's health and visits are made concerning babies, pre-school children and mothers. Whenever there is a new birth, the public health nurse calls. Immunization clinics are held at the nurse's office for pre-school children and babies and one is held at the schools, which is outside of the allotted school time.

Child welfare conferences are held weekly at the health service office, Dotsford St., for infants and pre-school children. Parents bring their children and attendance is regulated according to ages.

At a weekly clinic held at the health service office on Tuesday, there were 17 children attending with mothers and 15 of them were mothers making their initial visit. One woman visiting town from Cape Breton Island brought her 15-month-old child to the health service. She said she had been used to going to the public health nurse in Cape Breton.

Attendance is governed by age at these weekly child health conferences. Babies up to two months go every week; two to four months old, every two weeks; four months to a year old, once a month and pre-school children go four to five times a year.

The rest of the nurse's time, which would seem doubtful to exist, is spent doing office and clerical work, promotion of the service, visiting doctors, dentists, and welfare organizations such as the Lions club, Red Cross and Women's Institute. The clerical work to be done is a huge task in itself.

The nurse does not diagnose but she can and does often "suspect" illnesses and abnormalities and brings them to the attention of the doctor. The chief aim of the public health service is to recommend regular medical supervision.

Historian, Teacher, Gardener
Mt. Albert Woman Keeps Busy

Mount Albert — A resident of whom Mount Albert may well be proud is Miss Elizabeth Leek, musician, flower lover, and local historian.

No one has done more to foster the art and appreciation of piano playing in the district than she has. Since graduating from De Mill College, and the Toronto Conservatory of Music, she has coached hundreds of students in theory and harmony, and derived pleasure from the exacting work because of her keen interest in young people. Last year she had 23 pupils. All of them passed the Royal Conservatory examinations and 18 of them won honor standing. The examiner expressed amazement at finding such a large and proficient class in a small rural community.

Miss Leek is also blessed with "green fingers." Her attractive stucco bungalow on the main street is surrounded by a beautiful garden which she tends herself, being especially noted for her lovely roses.

An excellent memory and a deep interest in the village in which she has always lived, prompted Miss Leek to write several articles about Mount Albert for the Newmarket Era, and she has come to be considered an authority on local history. Members of historical societies consult her for information, and former residents and their descendants just naturally seek her out to discuss old times.

Early Forebears
Miss Leek's forebears were among the early settlers of Markham township. Her grandfather, Daniel Leek, and his brother David came to Canada from New York about 1815, and took up two farms on the third concession, Markham, at what is still known as Leek's Corners. In March, 1820, the two young men returned to the United States to marry, and bring back their brides. When they reached Kingston on the homeward trip the river was frozen and the going heavy, so they sold their fine horses and bought a team of oxen to draw the wagon. Miss Leek still has a small, walnut cane-seated settee which came to Canada in that wagon.

Her father was a school teacher in Markham. During a summer vacation in the 1850's, he came to the Mount Albert district (then known as Newlands) to hunt and fish, and was persuaded to remain and open the first general store. Miss Leek treasures some of his old day books computed in pounds, shillings and pence, and recording the purchases of the pioneer families.

Mount Albert has been thrice named. It was first called Birchard town for Richard Birchard who headed the little group of early Quaker settlers. Next it became Newlands, a term descriptive of the yet wild and untamed district. In 1860 as a result of a petition to the government, the present name was adopted. It honors the (then) Prince of Wales who visited Newmarket in the first week of October, 1860, to officiate at the opening of the first railway to Barrie, and the north. Needless to say nearly every resident of Mount Albert was present at that ceremony. The latter is the only name which gives a hint of the picturesque elevation which is such an attractive feature of the village. Houses built upon the mount command a magnificent view.

Could See 13 Townships

Miss Leek remembers especially one drive up the hill with her father. When they reached what is now the little park at the top, he drew rein and pointed out to her the location of 13 townships which he could distinguish in the wonderful panorama spread out below.

She also tells an interesting story in connection with the little park. The land, given by Mr. Birchard many years ago, was to be used for a log school-house "as long as grass grows green, and water flows down the hill." He stipulated the exact dimensions of the school, and appointed hereditary trustees. Unfortunately neither the stipulations nor the site suited the growing community, and the land remained a weedy thicket until the local Horticultural Society had the happy idea of obtaining permission to transform it into Birchard Park.

Miss Leek and her sister, Miss Minnie (who became a school principal and art supervisor) planned the remodeling of their stucco bungalow. Their biggest venture in the realm of building, however, was the erection, on a corner of their property, of a branch office and manager's residence for the Sovereign Bank. This is now occupied by the Dominion Bank.

Floral Arrangements

On the making of attractive flower arrangements we need not follow a set of hard and fast rules, we should, however, work within the broad limits of good design. Think of the arrangement as a composition, as such it is, subject to the general principles that apply to any composition in any medium, design, scale, balance, harmony. Design is the shape or form of the composition.

Scale is the term used to denote the size relationship of the component parts in a composition. Balance creates the impression of stability. Notice how nature achieves balance; a firm foundation and in many flowers the larger heavier blooms at the base, with smaller blooms above, and at the very top, the bud. Balance may be either symmetrical or asymmetrical. A guide as to height, accepted as being generally the most pleasing, is the rule that the tallest material should be one and one-half times the height of an upright container or one and one-half times the breadth of a low container. This is only a general rule and may be broken for good reason. The central flower stem in an arrangement must be placed firmly upright, otherwise the arrangements will appear to be falling backwards or forwards; the most prominent bloom, the heaviest and darkest material is placed in or near the centre, low down in the arrangement, with the finer sprays and lighter shades at the top.

The fourth basic principle—harmony—simply means that all of the parts of the arrangement should go well together.

Attractive arrangements cannot be made from wilted or half dead material, hence the cutting and hardening of our flowers is important. Sunshine closes the pores of flowers; we want the pores open, that the stems can readily absorb the water, so we cut from the garden in the early morning or better still, after sun-down. With sharp stem cutters each stem is cut slantwise to insure a good water absorbing area, then placed immediately in deep, cool water for several hours before arranging. Hard and woody stemmed materials need the stem ends crushed and slit before placing in water. Poppies and dahlias absorb water more readily if the stem ends are placed for a few seconds in boiling water then plunged into deep, cool water. This is one method used for hardening and freshening the cut poinsettia.

I have used the boiling water treatment to successfully harden sunflower and hollyhock blooms and tepid water instead of ice cold for roses and calendulas.

The flower container is most important. It need not be expensive, but in shape, size, color and texture should be in harmony with the arrangement. It should also hold an adequate amount of water. Containers of neutral or pastel shades and simple form are most useful and always good for any arrangement.

To keep the flowers in place in most containers, some type of holder is necessary. Crumpled two-inch chicken wire is practical in many containers and is most satisfactory for the shallow container. The holder must be securely fastened in the container, this may be done with modelling clay. When clay is not available we use melted candle wax or paraffin. The clay container and holder must be perfectly dry before using, otherwise the clay will not grip the surface.

As an arrangement for the dining table will be viewed by people sitting down, a good idea is to sit down yourself when making this arrangement. It should be kept well below eye level, that people may see each other and it must be attractive from every angle.

When planting the garden, plan and plant for the many flower arrangements you will want during the coming season.

Maple Cattle Breeders Open Barn

Col. Tom Kennedy, minister of agriculture, believes that governments have too long treated the farmers as if they were wayward children who required the constant supervision of government guardians. He believes that the farmers, given the opportunity, can take care of their own affairs a good deal better than a desk-bound theorist. Tom Kennedy had an excellent chance to expound this belief once again on Thursday afternoon when he declared the new barn of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association officially open. For there is no project in the county that we know of which better represents what farmers do when they act jointly to meet a requirement of their profession.

The Maple Cattle Breeders' Association has had a phenomenal growth since 1945 when it was organized with a membership of 87 paid up members. Three years after its founding, it has a membership of over 1,200 extending over seven counties. Now the association owns 21 bulls, 16 of which are housed in the new barn. Adjoining the barn is the office building which includes a modern laboratory. Officers are pres., Norman Porter; manager, G. W. Keffler; technician, Dr. C. R. Reeds; treas., Andrew Snider.

It was a beautiful day for the ceremony with a hot sun cooled by a steady east wind. Near the barn, a double circus-sized tent had been set up to shade the speakers and their audience. In the office building, an extensive display showed all aspects of the work of the unit.

In his remarks before officially declaring the new barn open, Tom Kennedy spoke on another subject dear to his heart, the growing supremacy of Ontario as a farm province. He spoke of the lead in farm production maintained by Ontario farmers, of the excellence of their record for quality products, citing recent sales of foundation stock as a good example. He pointed out that the farmer must change with the times if he is going to maintain a profit-making business, and this led him to his assertion of faith in the farmer's ability to handle his own business as exemplified in one instance by the growth of the Maple association. "This is your business," he told the audience. "This is the result of your labors." Governments can help with finances and the advice of experts, but in the long run, it is the farmer who does the job, if it needs doing, he said.

But if the Maple association members were inclined to rest on their laurels after the praise of the speakers, Dr. Watson of the provincial government jolted them rudely. The growth of the association has been phenomenal, he admitted, but for it all, the association was servicing only seven percent of the 199,000 cows in the area it covers. "Unless you near 20 percent within the next year or two, you'll not be doing your job," he told them bluntly.

Dr. Watson introduced the dairy herd improvement plan as the logical follow-up of artificial insemination from good sires. In general terms, it calls for recording the production of a herd so that its efficiency can be improved. The government has provided simplified forms and he urged all members of the association to acquaint themselves with the details.

Ginger Tells Horace's Sad Story

Horace the horse fly is dissipated he has been eating vast quantities of hemlock leaves which has had a corrupting effect on him. It is sad to see his natural functions decomposing by the day. This taste for the leaf of the hemlock has turned horace into a hard and fast drug addict. I am pretty sure the other day he crashed into a window pane while attempting to come in through the composing room and bent a left wing stabilizer so that he flew with a list. I found him stupid on his back on the window sill with his legs up in the air and babbling.

now this state of horace is just what I expected of an individual like him who expected to carry on with a philosophy like he had horace said as I once told you boss that he was a transmigrating printer that once worked here he revelled at the thought that he was transmigrating into an insect's body because it made life easier. all he had to do for a nice dinner was to find a horse and there was a fine rumpt on the hoof no worries or rent to pay as he said just roam the world biting horses rumps and now look where its got him.

well after I found horace stupid on the window sill I dragged him out of danger and brought him to full consciousness with a squirt from a fly sprayer when he realized he had been at the leaf again he began to cry over it and all the sins he had committed since he was first able to fly.

to what ruin of events in the past do you impute this degrading habit of devouring this noxious vegetation you hemlock eater you I asked of horace. It is all because I never had anyone to love me said the insect. all my life I have wanted to have a little home of my own and a wife to give me my pipe and slippers and lots of little horse flies buzzing around at my feet he wailed.

further questioning revealed that horace had had a great love affair with another horse fly named mule face minnie but all his affections toward minnie were spurned. I vowed that I would kill myself if she did not marry me and what did she do but run off to the yukon with one of those city bar flies. my life became an empty shell he said.

life was meaningless horace went on midst a volume of tears I became a carefree bum just biting horses and one day I flew into a grove of hemlocks and absent mindedly chewed on a twig it became a habit and I have been driven to hemlock eating ever since.

last week horace climaxed his life with a great spurge of hemlock eating that, spelled his doom. he ate a whole limbful of hemlock leaves in five days and on Friday he flew crazily into our composing room. his first and last haunts red-eyed he flew around the room at supersonic speed he even did a turn in the editorial office and scared the proof reader away for the day. horace did an amazing feat of aerobatics but his strength was weakening from a high altitude nose dive right into the big newspaper press down stairs he came out flat like a star fish we buried him in the alley with quiet ceremony.

Give Land For Uxbridge Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. George Kydd have donated three acres of land to be the site of The Cottage Hospital, Uxbridge. The land lies within the town limits east of the new housing development. It is rich and well drained, blopping slightly toward the south with a beautiful view of rolling countryside. If more land is needed, J. M. Low has offered to donate seven adjoining acres, several other land owners had offered sites for the hospital.

Jack Drewery, son of Mrs. Robert Ratcliff, Stouffville, is flying with "Operation Magnetometer". This is the first time this sort of work has been done in Canada. Jack is a navigator. This is a combined work of the Research Council, the department of mines and resources, the R.C.A.F., with the prime object of developing a magnetic map for Canada.

Spademan Bros., who supply ice to householders in Markham and Stouffville, delivered eight tons one day during the recent hot spell, to establish a record weight since they have been in the ice business.

The Markham twp. war memorial, erected at Crosby Park, was unveiled recently at an impressive service. One girl, a Red Cross nurse in the last war, is listed among the veterans of both world wars whose names are inscribed on the war memorial. Brig.-Gen. Colin Campbell, M.P., officiated and Reeve Vern Griffin, Markham twp., presented inscribed Bibles to next-of-kin of all Markham twp. residents who fell in the second world war.

Large congregations more than filled Schomberg United church for its re-opening September 12. At a cost of about $12,000 the edifice has been practically rebuilt on accommodating and modern lines starting July last year. The cornerstone was laid in May, 1948. Funds have been raised by the congregation and generous contribution of voluntary labor and building executive had lowered the building cost. Dedication was performed by Rev. Dr. W. Harold Young, Toronto. New gowns were worn by the choir which the ladies of the W.A. had made. The minister's gown was a gift of Mrs. Anne E. Ferguson, Schomberg, and the family of the late Rev. William A. McKay, a former minister at Schomberg, donated a communion table.

The members of Stouffville Horticultural Society showed four baskets of gladioli at the C.N.E. and won three firsts and one second prize. The society also won an honor of merit on their garden plot.

A few weeks ago the job printing department of this newspaper was advised to commence collecting eight percent tax on all job printing done on the premises, and sold to the public. That was a command which somewhat disturbed us. We said to the official, "Is it not three years since we were at war, and is the time not ripe for reduction in taxes instead of adding on new ones?"

Of course one is foolish arguing with government officials, since they cannot change the law any more than we can. However, our ire was really aroused when after being supplied with a lot of instruction on how to collect the eight percent tax and make monthly remittance to the dominion government office in Toronto, we were told that we must annually subscribe two dollars for a license. "What," said we, "do you mean to say that in addition to being forced to collect taxes for the dominion government, we are asked to pay two dollars annually for the privilege?" Smilingly, the clerk said that was just what was expected and demanded.

Thinking it over, we came from the taxing office saying that it is no wonder Canada is breeding a lot of Communists. Could anyone think of a more offensive law than that which commands the humble business man to collect taxes for a wealthy government without compensation, and pay an annual fee in the bargain for the doubtful privilege of being a tax collector.

If we have over-stated our case we call upon the genial member for North York to put us on the correct road again. In the meantime our readers will sympathize with our position as a tax collector and that of all other business concerns who are forced under penalty to collect this tax for Ottawa, and pay two dollars annually for the privilege.

Editorials

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people: the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Possible Source Of Injustice

Section seven of the by-law to license billiard tables in Newmarket is disturbing in its implication that the town council has assumed, in addition to its other duties, that of sitting in judgment on the manner in which pool rooms are operated. The section, following those listing the conditions under which pool halls should be operated and naming the penalties for breaches of those conditions, reads: "That the council . . . may at any time cancel such license in the discretion of the said council".

The council writes the by-laws but it is not its province to judge whether or not those laws have been observed. That is what the police and the courts are for. To give the council such sweeping power of judgment as contained in section seven is to open the way to a possible injustice. There might come a time when section seven would be exercised by council on grounds other than those provided for in the by-law—the cancellation of a pool hall license might be made because of the personalities involved or from prejudice, or the threat of cancellation used against the operator to make him conform to council's wishes in other matters.

If it was the council's intention to prevent the operation of a pool hall by an undesirable person, or to guard against the operator who repeatedly breaks the law, the by-law could have contained provision for the cancellation of the license on recommendation by the court. In that way, there would be disinterested judgment and the rights of the operator would be protected.

Jabberwocky On High Level

An attempt to have the town hall redecorated was frustrated in council by the kind of jabberwocky for which the council has become famous. The property committee introduced a resolution to accept tenders for the redecoration of the hall. In the debate that followed, it was argued that the council's job was to save money as well as spend it—or as applied to the town hall, to decide whether it is cheaper to paint the building, thus saving in its maintenance against the ravages of time, or to cancel off that saving against the saving that could be made by not painting.

It is a poor comment on a civic body that it must spend its time on an issue like this. It makes most obvious once again that for all its pride in being "business-like" in its administration of town affairs, the council has no policy for the maintenance of its properties. The town owns the hall, the arena, the Main St. building which houses the clerk's office, the firehall and other properties. If the council has a definite policy of maintenance of these buildings, it has been kept a municipal secret. The work that is done is mostly unscheduled, like the painting and decoration of the back room over the firehall at the suggestion of an organization which was going to be charged rent for its use.

The town has a heavy investment tied up in its properties, much too heavy considering the use they are given. But it is no advantage to lose on that investment through failure to maintain the properties. The cost of maintaining the buildings should be set aside each year, and spent in that purpose under the direction of the property committee. Then there would be no "spend or save" debates to waste council's time and to frustrate action.

New Library Building

Newmarket needs a library building. The present facilities are not adequate in their size nor accommodation for historical displays and the safe-keeping of documents. Being on the second floor, the use of the library imposes a certain amount of hardship on those of advanced years.

It is equally definite that the town is not in a financial position to afford a separate library building, and if one is to be built, it will be at the expense of a public subscription and the generosity of individuals. It is our belief that the public generally would contribute to such a building fund were it opened by a group willing to see the project through.

It is most unfortunate, and an occasion which has cost Newmarket heavily in prestige, that there is now no place where the relics of Newmarket and district's past may be catalogued and displayed. Sharon Temple serves more as a museum for larger articles, but there is no facility for storing safely the manuscripts and similar material that are constantly being recovered throughout the district. They are being dispersed and lost because of it. A separate library building, as well as meeting those requirements now lacking in the present library, would provide a safe resting place for these works of the past.

'Samplers' Prized Local Possessions

By ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA, PART III

Among the interesting and lovely treasures which have come to us by inheritance few are more appealing than the old-time Samplers. In their very simplicity and sincerity they seem like charming aristocrats from a page of life that was turned long ago. Down to the middle of the last century almost every little girl worked her sampler—she was not allowed to play until she had done at least one hour of fine needlework. Neither should it be forgotten that back of each sampler exists a fragment of human personality that was inspired by the artistic, the ambitious and the added discipline of conscientious duty and the environment. So, because of an enquiring concern in these delightful old symbols a quest was instituted for some which had been handed down from great-grandmother's time — a quest that disclosed some beautiful examples of the art that is very much prized by local people.

The farm now owned by Mr. Fred Hall at Sharon originally was the home of the late Jesse Doan, and there he lived with his wife and family, and because of the careful training of the daughters, some exquisite pieces of this quaint industry are extant. Three of these are in the possession of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Yonge Street. Two of them are the work of Mr. Lewis' mother. The larger one differs from the alphabetical style, being composed of a central motif, a Bird of Paradise, embroidered in misted colors of rose, yellow, green and brown, and is surrounded by a wide conventional border with the signature, "Sally Ann Doan, 1840." It is enhanced by a deep box frame.

25 and 50 Years Ago

Great Showing Expected At Fair

Not since the war has there been so much activity shown in connection with the Newmarket fair, which holds its 65th annual exhibition Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, according to the files of 25 years ago. The directors have seen that the grounds and buildings are in first-class shape. The entries in heavy horses and cattle are the best for some years while the show of sheep promises to be the biggest in the county of York this fall. There are many flowers being shown but fruit and vegetables are scarce. The factories and businesses have attractive displays and Miss Frankie Jones has an exhibit of interesting articles which she collected while in China. The fair promises to be a gala affair with horse racing and a ball game between Newmarket and Aurora as well as the displays.

Quite a number of local Musicians motored over to Schomberg on Sunday to attend the annual church parade of the Schomberg Lodges. Eighty-four in the shade at noon yesterday. The steel bridge on Water St. has been greatly improved by the removal of the old plank and a new four-inch covering substituted. Some of the old plank was worn within an inch of going through. About 25 Methodist young people enjoyed a wolver roast Monday evening at the rear of the old mills on Gosham St. All report a grand time. John McCaffrey received an order for some of his White Leghorns to go to Brazil. Mrs. W. E. Jackson, Toronto, spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. C. Jackson at "Mapleton". The Westmax orchestra will provide the music for the opening dance in the Oddfellows' Hall Saturday night. A successful afternoon tournament was held on Wednesday, the last half-holiday of the season. There were 14 rinks present, five from Newmarket. The prizes were all taken out of town: Albert Glass, Richmond Hill; Dr. Williams, Aurora; Dr. McNab, Uxbridge.

From 'The Era and Express Files, September 23, 1898' Mrs. J. A. Boll and son, who have been over from New York City for a couple of months, left Tuesday for their new home at Jaeger, N.Y., where Mr. Boll has purchased a printing office and is going into business for himself. He is a graduate of The Era office. Mr. Boll formerly worked for over 12 years for the same firm in New York, advancing from compositor to sub-editor. Mrs. J. Walder, Mount Albert, picked a cup of blackberries last Monday morning, which is something unusual for this time of year. I. J. Hartman, Aurora, left on Wednesday for Dawson City carrying with him an official appointment as postmaster for the city. Last Saturday's market presented an oldtime busy day—the attendance and quantity of produce offered being unusually large. Butter ruled from 16 to 17 cents a lb. Eggs advanced to 14 cents. Plums and apples were plentiful, plums at 15 to 20 cents a pail and apples 15 to 20 cents a basket. Peaches were selling at $1 a basket, strained honey at eight cents a lb. Pumpkins were eight and ten cents each. Rev. Andrews, Toronto, a student at Trinity College, officiated at St. Paul's church last Sunday. Mr. Elias Rogers, Toronto, formerly of Newmarket, and J. K. MacDonald, county treasurer, left on Tuesday on a trip to the Pacific coast. R. Kirton, Glenville, brought a tomato into The Era office that measured 18" in circumference and weighed one and one-half lbs. There was a heavy white frost on Wednesday morning which cooked the tomato and cucumber vines. A young horse was frightened by the band last Saturday evening and bolted in front of Roche's store. Fortunately it was checked before doing any damage.

Mrs. Fern Palmateer has returned home after spending the summer on the Manitoulin Island and is spending this week in Toronto and Newmarket. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Palmateer and daughter, Irene, Sudbury, visited their grandmother, Mrs. S. Cain on Saturday and returned to their home on Sunday.

Letters

To The Editor

Letters to the editor are always appreciated. The "letters" column is the reader's forum.

The Editor: Ever since the discovery of Lake Simcoe, the scenic beauty of its shores has been appreciated and loved by all who have had the privilege of visiting it. In the early 80's of the last century my grandfather took his family and camped on the shore at the spot now known as Orchard Beach, and was, I believe, the first "summer resort" to take advantage of its beauty. During the past 50 years or so a great deal of development has taken place along the drive from Keswick to Jackson's Point and beyond. Certain sections have been made most beautiful by persons of exceptional means, who from time to time dream up the idea of closing this beautiful drive to the general public and forcing all traffic other than that which would serve their own personal pleasure to travel by the old radial right-of-way, which would deprive all, with the exception of the privileged few, the pleasure and delight of this beautiful summer drive.

The province of Ontario realizes that the tourist attractions of Ontario are one of its outstanding assets, especially from a financial point of view. Surely we as taxpayers in the twp. of North Gwillimbury would be short sighted indeed to allow any such project as the aforesaid, to arrive at any serious point of development.

I feel that councils during the past have been short sighted indeed to have allowed almost all available spots along this shore to slip from their grasp and we now are finding ourselves with only an odd road end and one small park (which has been receiving serious criticism from some Roche's Point summer residents) where the resident taxpayers of the twp. can feel free to enjoy their own lake.

The most recent move to pave the radial right-of-way at a cost of some $50,000 per mile, presumably the cost to be borne by the people who would lose the privilege of using the Lakeshore Road, is something for Mr. Taxpayer to consider most carefully when he goes to the polls on future election days.

Let us keep our eye on the future in a true sense of democracy and fair play for all.

Lillian Holborn, Sutton West.

'SAMPLERS'

potted plants and birds, with rows of fine stitches between. In the centre are the words, "Remember, friends, that you must die, and leave the world, and so must I." What solemn words for a little girl to think upon! At the bottom are the initials, "F. and C." The whole is surrounded by a generous border of the combined colors. It was the work of Frances Coe of Field Delling, Norfolk, England, and who later assumed the name of Allison and became the grandmother of Mrs. Smith. No date is on it but Mrs. Smith says it must have been worked about 1825.

Long years ago another little girl in West Knoyle, Wiltshire, England, patiently put in her daily hour at her sampler. The stitchery of this is exquisitely intricate, and an unusually fine quality of linen was employed for background. This sampler might have been a painting brushed in by the soft shades of a summer twilight. It represents the Manor House, the door in the centre perfectly detailed even to the knocker. About it is a picket fence and the whole is enclosed by a formal garden. Over the house a flock of birds is on the wing. Two peacocks preen themselves beneath the trees and birds perch upon flower-pots. Below the house is embroidered the name, "Elizabeth Jewkes, aged seven years, 1820." Around the happy picture is a conventional design which, like the colors used throughout, is in shades of brown and beige. In later years this young girl became Elizabeth Jewkes Rumsey, grandmother of the Misses Rumsey on Botsford St. in whose possession is now this lovely sampler.

MIAMI BEACH

Many of the Torontonians were up to their cottages to enjoy the lovely weekend.

Quite a few people have had the flu and bad colds that are going around.

BELHAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lockie are spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Lockie.

The September meeting of the Women's Institute was held last week with the president, Mrs. E. Jacobs, in the chair. An interesting program on health was planned by the convener, Mrs. W. Anderson. Mrs. Lloyd Kay read an article describing the organization and value of the health unit. Mrs. Kidd told of a new drug developed from the flower of buckwheat. A poem relating to health was read by Mrs. C. Marriott. Mrs. H. Horner read an essay which had received first prize by the Federation on "The Book of Books."

A paper entitled "Getting the most out of Life" was read by Mrs. W. Anderson. This stressed that almost everything hinged on health. Members who are 40 or over were urged to face the fact intelligently. To do this: live moderately, observe regular short rest periods, take time for prescribed check-ups, and always remember that another milestone is forever past.

Mrs. E. Jacobs gave current events. The hostesses were Miss Main, Mrs. Lockie and Mrs. H. Horner.

Congratulations to Miss Marguerite Pegg upon winning an honor standing, also a prize, for judging at the Exhibition. Marguerite, a member of the Girls' Club of our neighbouring Institute at Elmgrove, was chosen as a judge of clothing in the Homemakers' Club there. Congratulations are also extended to the leaders of the Elmgrove Club, Mrs. Noble Munroe and Mrs. Allan Smallwood.

The shower held in the hall last Friday evening for Roy Draper and his bride-to-be was quite a success and the presents were beautiful.

Autumn began September 21. A north-east breeze is the indicator of prevailing winds for the coming winter.

Richmond Hill Bowlers Entertain Newmarket

Newmarket—The Newmarket Ladies' and Men's Bowling clubs were guests of the Richmond Hill Bowling club at the latter's greens on Monday night when a friendly return tournament was held. Those from Newmarket winning prizes were Mr. Chas. Willis and his rink for high for two wins and Mr. Norman Hopper and his rink who won the consolation prize. About 36 from Newmarket attended.

KETTLEBY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Tankard, with their daughter Gloria, her husband and son, all of Cleveland, Ohio, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacLean over the weekend of September 12. Mr. and Mrs. Dan McMillan, Toronto, are guests this week.

On Wednesday, Sept. 15, a social gathering of neighbors was held at the home of Mrs. Tom Wilson to present two wedding gifts to Mrs. Weedon (Marjory Walls). Owing to the long illness of the hostess, the gathering had been postponed for several months until she was able to get on her feet again, which made it an extra happy occasion. Mrs. R. W. Ball gave three delightful readings and Mrs. E. Fry sang Love's Old Sweet Song after which Mrs. MacLean read an address congratulating the bride and groom, wishing them every happiness in their new life together. Two little girls, Misses MacLean and Wilson, presented the bride with a lovely pair of blankets from neighbors and Mrs. Ed Haines presented a pair of flannelette sheets from the Christ church Ladies' Guild. After partaking of refreshments, all wended their way home feeling better for taking time out in busy lives for visiting among friends.

Friday, Sept. 17, was a gala day when Christ church Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. E. Fry to celebrate the birthdays of five of their members during the month of September. They are Mrs. H. Pleasance, Sept. 3, Miss Clarice Sharpe and Mrs. E. Fry, Sept. 17. Mrs. Ross Black and Mrs. Ed Williams, Sept. 29.

Mrs. W. R. Collyer from Belleville, Mrs. Fry's sister, was present, and as her birthday is September 20, she was included in the group. Court whist was played during the afternoon, then a delicious supper provided by all with two birthday cakes was served. After the refreshments Mrs. P. W. Ball gave two delightful readings and Mrs. Norman Greensides read an address of appreciation to our greatly beloved organist, Mrs. Bob Archibald, who has been at Christ church for a good number of years and presented her with a bouquet of flowers and $50 as a token of gratitude to her for her voluntary services for so long a period. It is hoped by all she will continue to play for us for many more years. The only regret was the absence of Mrs. Ross Black and Mrs. Ed Williams who were both sick and unable to be present, but they were both sent a piece of cake and the birthday greetings from all present. A special treat for the hostess was the fact that another sister, Mrs. J. Warren from England, was also present, making it the first time in over 40 years when all three sisters have been together for a birthday party.

We all wish Mrs. Ross Black, Mrs. Ed Williams and Mrs. Frank Beatty a speedy recovery from their illnesses.

Sunday, Sept. 19, was observed in all the churches as Battle of Britain day. Hymns and sermon at Christ church were all on this theme and the vicar reminded us of how much we owe to those brave people of their courage during those dark days. One way a little of this great debt can be repaid is to send as much as we can to help relieve their monotonous diet. Such things as tea, canned salmon, fruit, butter, fats and candles which are so scarce there and much enjoyed when received by the people.

Sunday, Sept. 26, will be Harvest Thanksgiving at Christ church, Kettleby. There will be two services, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 a.m. The special preacher will be Rev. J. E. Gibson, Toronto.

As both Schomberg and Nobleton churches will have no services, we hope to see many members of their congregations joining with us.

Morley Andrews on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Weatherill and Mrs. Weatherill, Sr., Unionville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Barker on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barker, Columbus, Ohio, had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Palmateer, Sudbury, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Morley Andrews.

Miss Lottie Tansley, Newmarket, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Brenar.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morton, Newmarket, spent Sunday with Mr. Aug. Gibson.

Anniversary services were well attended and the special music was enjoyed by all.

FARM BULLETIN

MORE LEGUME FORAGE NEEDED

Today the legume acreage in Canada is very considerably less than 20 years ago; yet legumes are vitally important to farmers for soil improvement, as hay, pasture and silage crops, and as sources of valuable concentrates.

It is always good farm economy to produce as much home-grown protein-rich foods as possible, experts point out. And this is especially important now when both animal and vegetable protein supplements are scarce. High quality legume hay and pasture is a sure way to keep down the live stock feed bill.

The correct seed mixture and seeding method and proper plant food are important in growing high quality legumes. In annual mixtures a seed mistake affects one year's crop. In perennial crops, the mistake repeats itself yearly.

If you have had indifferent luck with legumes, why not consult your nearest agricultural college or experimental farm? They'll give you the benefit of their experience and that of other farmers with whom they've been in contact.

When you have a financial problem, we invite you to talk the matter over with the capable, friendly manager of our nearest branch.

Am I
too old to buy
life insurance?

The middle-aged man who asked this question feared that at his age the cost of life insurance would be prohibitive... but even were he much older, Mutual life insurance would still prove good business.

Unfortunately many people realize the importance of life insurance only when through age or other disability they are no longer able to secure it. A life insurance programme should be started as early in life as possible.

Consult your Mutual Life of Canada man today.

Sylvia Dolby Heads Newmarket Brownies

Newmarket—Miss Sylvia Dolby, a former Brownie and Guide, has been appointed Brown Owl in charge of the First Newmarket Brownie Pack. As her assistants, Miss Margaret Smith and Miss Pearl Gunn, will be the Tawny Owls. Misses Patricia and Joyce Hargreaves, who headed the group last year, have moved to St. Catharines.

Growing Resort Found On Holland River

A most enjoyable corn and weiner roast was held by the cottagers of the new and thriving community, River Drive Park, recently and closed a most successful season. The park on the bank of the Holland River northwest of Holland Landing is now enjoyed by the owners of 50 cottages. Less than three years ago this place was pasture land but through the initiative and enterprise of G. B. Thompson, Holland Landing, who has owned the land for the last 40 years and had always visualized a place where the working man could have a cottage of his own. This latest of summer resorts is filling up fast, 20 cottages being built this year. Reasonable prices and the generous terms offered have brought about this surprising development.

The corn roast was attended by about 200 cottagers and their friends and the twp. council of East Gwillimbury were also present. A general store on the spot supplies many of the necessities of life, milk and bread are delivered daily, ice, groceries and meat are brought in from Holland Landing and Newmarket. With the coming of the hydro power next spring this community, no doubt, will enjoy a development seldom seen so near Toronto.

Vets Split Series With Scarboro Team

Brown's Motors, finalists in the Scarboro Softball League, had revenge from the Vets at Stuart Scott school grounds Saturday evening, squaring up for a previous licking administered by the Vets with a 10-6 triumph. In that previous contest played in Scarboro's High View Park Vets behind the fire-balling of "Joint" McComb proved they were ready for floodlight ball as they romped to a 15-2 win over the Motors. It was the Vets' initial game under the lights.

With "Joint" McComb away to the early hockey training sessions, Coach "Cecgers" McDonald sent Andy O'Neill, up from Aurora, to the mound Saturday. The Scarboro crew had little difficulty in jumping off to an early lead which the Vets couldn't take. Lefty Don Glover took over from O'Neill and had better success in the late innings of halting the visitors' hitting power.

The teams are hoping to settle their series which stands at a game each now, under the lights at a later date.

Simcoe 'All Stars' Take Mount Albert 7-2

Mount Albert and the Lake Simcoe Softball League "All Stars" rallied to the call Tuesday evening for an exhibition tilt to aid Charlie Peterson. Charlie, always a leader in the Mount Albert softball fold and coach of their 1946 champions, has been staging a recovery at Sunnybrook hospital. The evening netted close to $93.

On the ball field, Mount Albert proved as liberal as the gathering of fans. They decided it was about time they showed a little generosity to a visiting ball team. Committing six errors afield that helped the "All Stars" record a 7-2 triumph. For their part, the stars played almost errorless ball to back up the steady tossing of their pitching staff of Don Glover and Ron Kester, the Zephyr hurler. Along with the errors handed to them, the Stars nicked "Red" Mitchell for eight hits. Shortstopper "Judd" Rutledge caused for one of their two runs.

Line-up: "All Stars", J. Vernon, C. Ward, L. Ganton, C. Pollock, D. Eves, H. Farr, B. Townsley, B. Preston, D. Glover, R. Kester; Mount Albert, D. Ross, B. Stokes, R. Draper, M. Case, K. Mitchell, J. Rutledge, K. Case, C. Green, V. Pegg, C. Arnold, D. Simpson; umpires, B. Revill, R. Peters.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by Don Graham

Would you like to experience one of the happiest, most interesting days in your life — tomorrow?

You will if you make it a "Double Day" — a day during which you try to practice certain principles with twice your normal effort.

For instance, with people — everyone you meet during the day — make a double effort to be kind and helpful. Try to be twice as interested in each one, twice as appreciative of their good qualities.

On the job too, there are many things you can profitably try to double: your concentration; your self-conscience; your efficiency; your ability to visualize improvements that can be made in your field of work.

Even spare time recreation will bring more fun and relaxation if entered into with doubled enthusiasm.

The end of such a day will be so enjoyable that you will want to continue such practice in the future.

Here's another secret of happier living: Provide a background of peace of mind for yourself and your loved ones through life insurance. It offers dependable protection against emergencies and provides income for retirement.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Jean Ann, four years old, is profiting by one of her mother's childhood experiences. Jean Ann's mother still remembers the first time she saw a bride. The wedding was a strange affair, but the bride was absolutely frightening. The main shock came after the ceremony when Jean Ann's mother recognized the bride as her Aunt Ellen. Aunt Ellen looked like a big white ghost when she swooped down on her with a kiss. At first, the little girl was stunned—then she screamed and wildly struggled in the embrace. Her flying fists tore a sizeable hole in the bride's hairdo veil, but the frightened child escaped from the "ghost of a bride."

This incident happened years ago, but relatives have continued to revive it at every family reunion since that time.

Years later, when Jean Ann's Aunt Lynn was about to become a bride, mother thought it advisable to prepare her for it. She devoted much time explaining about weddings and brides. She told Jean Ann that Aunt Lynn would be wearing a veil—like a funny white curtain hanging from her head. She told Jean Ann that weddings were happy times; even though sometimes, some people cry a little at weddings.

The little four-year-old had many, many questions to ask; but the most often repeated question was: "Is this the funny day?"

When the "funny day" finally arrived, Jean Ann was unusually quiet. During the wedding, she seemed to be in a silent daze—though, staring with wide-eyed wonderment. Jean Ann didn't break her spell of silence until she greeted the bride at the church door. Then her clear, happy, laughing little voice was heard by everyone: "You do look funny, Aunt Lynn! Mother said you would!"

Newmarket Woman Busy As Fair Judge

Newmarket—Mrs. T. A. Mitchell is having a busy time during the three weeks when the fall fairs are being held throughout the county. Mrs. Mitchell judged at the Orillia fair and last Wednesday was a judge at the Oro one-day fair. This event, however, known as the World's Fair, is considered progressive with all the exhibits being brought, judged, shown and removed in the one day.

It keeps the judges busy to complete all their work from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mr. Elton Armstrong also judged at Oro yesterday.

On Friday Mrs. Mitchell judged at Beaverton. This week she goes to Orangeville and to the Simcoe fair in October.

Having judged at fairs for 15 years, Mrs. Mitchell judged at the C.N.E. prior to the war as well as at Kingston, Lindsay and Belleville. Fancy work and household science exhibits are her field but Mrs. Mitchell is interested in all forms of craft work.

Mrs. Mitchell is active in the Women's Institute and this year holds the office of vice president. With all her talents and knowledge of crafts Mrs. Mitchell will have an even busier time in Newmarket this season.

Personal Parcels Group Asks Financial Aid

Newmarket—Speaking at a meeting of the personal parcels for Britain committee on Monday night, Jack Luck complimented the local organizations that have backed this effort. He said, "The sending of nearly 500 parcels overseas has done much to create good feeling between Great Britain and Canada and has brought great credit to our community. No town in Ontario has done so much as Newmarket which was the only place that carried on during the entire summer with uninterrupted shipments of parcels."

Transportation of the parcels to Toronto has been free of charge with Peter Gorman, Alex. George and John Campbell contributing their services.

However, less than $160 remains of the nearly $2,000 which was received by the committee in donations. To maintain this steady flow of parcels from Newmarket contributions are badly needed during this interim period before an official drive can be opened. A campaign for $2,000 will begin on October 15. "With Christmas fast approaching, the shipment of these greatly needed parcels must not be stopped," said Mrs. M. B. Seldon, secretary-treasurer of the committee.

Miss Agnes Wilmot, her attendant, chose lime green crepe with hat to match. The groomsmen were Mr. Richard Hamon, and the ushers were Mr. Lloyd Rose and Mr. Wray Playter. The reception was at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will live in Kitchener.

KING GIRL WED AT PARENTS' HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell of King was the setting on Sept. 18 for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Margaret, to William Walter (Jack) Wood, son of Mr. Walter Pitt Wood and the late Mrs. Wood of Aurora. Rev. Dr. Archer Wallace of Maple officiated against a background of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in oyster white satin, made with fitted bodice, lace yoke, draped satin shoulder fold and full flowing skirt extending in a short train. Her original matching satin and lace headpiece held the fingertip veil and she carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli, cream roses and swanson lilies. As bridesmaids, Helen Walker and Louise Matheson were becomingly gowned in copper red satin styled like the bride's, short sleeves and satin mitts. They wore matching halos and carried bouquets of cream roses. Mr. Robert Case of Aurora was the groom's bestman.

The reception was held at Ridge Inn, Oak Ridge, the bride's mother wearing a gown of elate crepe, navy accessories, and corsage of white gladioli petals. The groom's sister, Mrs. Arthur Trent of Lindsay, chose periwinkle blue, black accessories and corsage of red roses.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

TWO JOINT MEETINGS

Joint meetings, to me, hold much of interest and what I suppose is rather odd in connection with women's meetings—adventure. Yet why should that be so? You are stepping from your own well-worn paths of organized work into those laid out by others whose interest in the work is as keen as your own but whose ideas for its accomplishment may vary considerably.

One such joint meeting was held on Tuesday, Sept. 14, at the home of Mrs. Frank Williams and the committee in charge, that of agriculture and Canadian industries. Our guests were Snowball Women's Institute members.

When a bus arrived from Snowball with 25 members and a car with four more, we all felt the exhilaration of small children when the party begins. Looking round the well-filled room, some 60 women all told, one saw familiar faces from district annuals, area conventions and meetings such as these and realized afresh how much the W.I. means to each of its members as well as to our country and the world.

The business part of our meeting was quickly dispatched and after a few words of welcome to our guests from Mrs. Penrose, president, the meeting was handed over to Snowball and Mrs. Patrick, called on Miss Sandra Hardy for a violin solo, Mrs. Albert Ridley accompanying. This was thoroughly enjoyed as Miss Hardy proved herself a master of her instrument and Mrs. Ridley gave her exactly the support that makes a violin and piano duet delightful.

A fine paper on Stocktaking in the Autumn Border by Miss Hazel Webb gave valuable hints about arranging and replanting the border. The fall finds the ground warmer than the air, so is better for root growth. Also, be sure to arrange your border for height and color. This was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Eileen Casey with violin obligato by Miss Hardy. Mrs. Ridley again accompanying. Now came a paper read by Mrs. Reddie and written by Dr. Margaret Patterson whose work in juvenile courts we have all known of. This paper was written after the first world war but might have been written now for its timeliness.

It spoke of the need for interest in boys and girls. Their leisure time should be investigated for how the young spend their leisure shows the trend of their thoughts and eventually their lives. If the girls set high standards the boys will follow their lead. Above all play should be supervised.

Children should be taught obedience at home, else they will not obey their country's laws. They should be taught to be kind to people and animals and respect "the Book".

Mrs. Alvin Ridley read a lovely poem, An Angel's Work. Miss Hardy delighted us with another violin solo and Mrs. C. Copson sang A Prayer which was lovely. Mrs. C. Morning conducted a contest, the answers to which were garden flowers. Usually someone gets nearly all but this time, if my memory serves me correctly, 11 out of 20 was the highest. Miss Casey delighted us with another solo and the program was over. I had been asked to announce that the Vandorf Institute was sponsoring an afternoon with Edna Jacques, poet and author, on Friday, Sept. 24, at Vandorf hall. After our meeting was concluded, Snowball and Bogartown women enjoyed the social hour which comes in some mysterious way with sandwiches, cakes and coffee and where there is a community of interests the result is bound to be interesting.

Second Joint Meeting

This was in the evening of the same day, Sept. 14, and at Trinity United church, Newmarket, under the joint auspices of the three women's organizations connected with the church and we were there to hear Mrs. Francis Starr speak of her work in Pakistan. At the opening of the meeting Mrs. J. E. Morris spoke of the work ahead for the year, its necessity and importance, and then after the Scripture lesson read by Mrs. J. B. Bastedo and prayer by Mrs. Ernest Morton and hymns accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Morris introduced Mrs. Starr.

By way of introduction Mrs. Starr spoke of the division of India into the two dominions of India and Pakistan—a bloodless gaining of independence followed by the bloodiest religious war in history—Moslem vs. Hindu—and each trying to reach the land where their compatriots lived. Homeless, foodless, almost naked, they started on their weary trek and it was to minister to these refugees that the Friends' Service Committee sent out volunteers like Mrs. Starr and Francis. She told us the Pakistan government asked them to do what they could for 20,000 refugees who had simply slipped off crowded trains and squatted

Family Gathering Marks 50th Anniversary

Newmarket — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newton celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sept. 7 with a family gathering of daughters, sons, daughters-in-law, sons-in-law, brothers, sisters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren at the home of the eldest son, William, who lives just west of Newmarket. Two beautiful bouquets of flowers, a wedding cake and a cash purse of $50 were presented to the happy couple on their 50th year of married life.

A wedding supper was prepared by the daughters and daughters-in-law. Speeches were in order. Carmen Long of Calgary, Alta., was toastmaster. He gave a toast on behalf of the brothers-in-law. William Newton gave a toast on behalf of the sons. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston of Toronto gave a toast on behalf of the daughters. Alfred Headley of Toronto gave a toast on behalf of the sons-in-law, and Walter Headley of Toronto gave a toast on behalf of the friends.

down in this place on the edge of the desert.

They were hungry, diseased and dirty and they distrusted European health methods, nearly all were illiterate. The three Europeans took possession of a boys' school which fortunately had a roof and here they established a hospital—where Mrs. Starr, who is a nurse, sprayed patients and hospital impurities and conquered the plague of insects. She also established a smallpox hospital as that disease was rife. Here the three who were trying to combat disease were up against superstition. Although they were dealing mostly with Moslems, these people had imbibed the Hindu belief that smallpox was a gift of God! Therefore the longer they were sick and the more spots, the greater the merit. So, to vaccinate or to inoculate against cholera was to be up against fear and a stubborn resistance, but thanks to the three workers, and the doctor, 7,000 were immunized and this little camp was one of the few to escape the cholera which swept the country.

During a three-weeks famine they managed to feed and save from starvation 3,000 children. A gift of tons of breakfast food from the Mennonites saved the day. This was boiled with milk and Mrs. Starr said one of the most pitiful sights she saw among many was the starving children dipping fingers into the boiling mixture in their cups and sucking them—they couldn't wait nor could their hosts cool the porridge as the thermometer stood at 120 degrees. She said it may sound like heroic, romantic work—it was, instead, plain drudgery and exhausting work, but they accomplished something.

Following the talk we went to another classroom where we were seated by birthday months, which mixed us up splendidly. Mrs. Cecil Wood and I who arrived together, lost each other but we all found lots to interest us and make tea and biscuits even more welcome than usual. I forgot to mention that Miss Violet Curtis gave us pleasure with her two piano accordion selections. Altogether it was a somewhat hectic but thoroughly enjoyable day for your scribe—and I'm ready for another!

KESWICK

Miss Ruth Mary Winch spent last weekend with Miss Barbara Pritchard, Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. George visited Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fisher at St. Catharines last week.

Mr. Melvin Morton, Toronto, and Mr. Smith, Ajax, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Winston Frosser.

Miss Olive Niles, Toronto, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Niles.

On Sunday an interesting service in charge of the pastor, Rev. M. R. Brown, was held in Keswick United church when a Temperance address was ably given by Rev. John Coburn, D.D., Toronto. One thought stressed was, — If slavery could be abolished, earnest Christian people should be able to abolish intemperance. The church choir was in attendance and furnished excellent music as usual.

Next Sunday morning will be the occasion of Ravenshoe United church anniversary services and the Keswick morning service at 11 a.m. will be sponsored by the session of Keswick church. The message will be delivered by Mr. Roy Pollock.

The W.C.T.U. of Keswick will hold a meeting next Monday evening at the manse. The vice president, Mrs. M. R. Brown, will take charge of the meeting. There will be special music and it is expected several of the members will contribute something towards the program which will be of interest to as many as are able to attend. The meeting opens at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Etta Wylder, who has been convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Aylward Marriott, in Sutton, is somewhat improved. She is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Chas. Anderson this week before returning to her home at Keswick.

Nice to see Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson and daughter, Helen, Toronto, at Keswick church again. Weekend trips to their cottage make this possible.

Say you read it in the Newmarket Era and Express.

Caps Teaching, Army Career With Top Honors In Theology

History was made at Trinity College, Toronto, September 15 when the degree of Licentiate of Theology was granted to Rev. H. L. Puxley, incumbent of Christ church, Roche's Point. Mr. Puxley was awarded first class honours, having obtained a first class in every paper in every examination throughout his college course.

Mr. Puxley has had an interesting and varied career. It began at Eton College in England, where his family have been educated for eight successive generations. There he became "Captain of the Oppidans," which at any other school would be "Captain of the School." He went to another ancestral institution, Brasenose College, Oxford, where he won three separate exhibitions. In his final year at Oxford he was awarded a Commonwealth Fund Fellowship for advanced study at Yale, being the first man ever to be awarded such a fellowship while still an undergraduate. Indeed, at the time that he applied, the rules definitely stated that only graduates might apply, but Mr. Puxley was a determined young man, and sent a letter with his application, telling the authorities of the Fund that they ought to change their rules. They did.

At Yale, Mr. Puxley did research work in currency theory, and, in addition to taking his M.A. wrote a book entitled "A Critique of the Gold Standard" at the age of 23. While crossing the Atlantic, he had met a charming young Toronto girl, Mary Sedgewick, daughter of Mr. Justice George H. Sedgewick. They were married in Toronto in 1932, and promptly set sail for India, where Mr. Puxley had been appointed professor of economics at a missionary college at Agra.

In 1940, Mr. Puxley was given a commission in the Indian Army, and was immediately seconded to an internal security job because of his knowledge of the language and the people. Six months later he became a captain, was promoted major in 1943, and lieutenant-colonel in 1944, when he was given the task of preparing schemes for the resettlement of Indian soldiers in civilian life at the end of the war.

When he was released from the army in 1946, Col. Puxley and his wife decided that the education of their children demanded that they should leave India, and return to Canada. Having been a lay missionary for so many years, Col. Puxley had always hoped to be ordained when he left India, and so he entered Trinity College, Toronto, in September, 1946. At the end of his first year at college, the Bishop of Toronto asked him to take charge of the parish of Roche's Point, Holland Landing and Sharon in addition to his studies. Mr. Puxley, with his military sense of discipline, bowed to the episcopal request to undertake this heavy assignment—and continued to obtain first-class marks in all subjects. Trinity College never awards the degree of L. Th. for less than three years' work, but when the results of his third examination at Christmas, 1947, became known, the authorities of the college decided to exempt Mr. Puxley from attending college for a third year on condition that he write one more examination during the summer. Mr. Puxley hid from his congregation in a boathouse at Roche's Point for ten days in August, and again emerged with first-class marks. Mr. Puxley has no plans for the future; that, he says, is in the hands of the bishop. But for the moment he and Mrs. Puxley agree that they could ask for no lovelier part of God's vineyard in which to work than the parish of Roche's Point.

GIVE PARTY

Newmarket—A surprise party was held on Saturday, Sept. 18, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Walsh, who are leaving for Toronto shortly. There were 14 present and they presented Mr. and Mrs. Walsh with an electric kitchen clock. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

SEEK SEWERS

The Hart Manufacturing Company has been granted permission to erect direction signs at Yonge and Kennedy Sts., Gurnett St. and Cousin's Drive, and Edward St. and Cousin's drive.

Midget baseball: Our Lions fell before a husky band of midget baseball players at Fort Erie Saturday as they dropped a 15-2 decision. It was the Lions' first loss in O.B.A. competition. The result of the return game being staged here will be known by the time this arrives in print. The Lions can do much better than their Saturday showing. Oak Park in, Fort Erie where the teams met boasts both an up-to-date baseball and softball diamond, the latter being flood-lighted. Rain fell Saturday during part of the proceedings but didn't halt play. Win or lose this series with the Forts, the lads have had a successful season.

Indoor football: After a lapse of a year because of the roller skating floor in the arena, there is every indication of a revival of indoor kick game. It is one of the best conditioners for hockey from all accounts. A meeting to organize is scheduled for early next week. The Vets are present holders of the trophy donated by the Davis Leather Company.

Ladies' softball: Like you and you and you, we're anxious for that final series. Midland and Valleys, who have been holding up the parade, have settled their semi-final argument. Midland finally outting Valleys after a four-game series, one game being called at the end of five and being ruled no contest. Midland took the deciding tilt 9-8. Skipper Courtney and Coach Van Zant are awaiting word as to the first engagement with the North-esters and are confident they can handle the threat. It can't be long delayed as daylight saving won't be around next week to help the series wind up.

Haskett's hash: Harold Gwyn, head man of our lacrosse forces, indicates there is a possibility of further activity in store for the red and whites in quest of the North York championship trophy. The trophy is likely to be contested for by Maple and Westbridge as well. Newmarket Vets had the tables turned on them by Brown's Motors from Scarboro last Saturday 9-5. That evening the series, the Vets have pinned the Scarboro club on their own diamond 15-2 under the lights. The teams are endeavoring to get together for a third and clincher. Congratulations Dodgers, you pulled an upset by licking the Braves in two straight for the midget softball title. The recreation council has big things in store for you. All the lads from all teams, taking part in the league games, will put on the feed bag and will receive crests for their summer's activity in the near future.

Mount Albert and district fans came through handsomely at their big do Tuesday night in honour of Charlie Peterson, coach of the Mount Albert championship squad in 1946. Charlie, at present recovering from a bout of sickness, is in Sunnybrook hospital. Murray Roberts and his chief assistants collected some $92 and change at the "All Star" vs Mount Albert game, the Stars winning out, by the way, 7 - 2. The Mount Albert team wish to thank all who took part in the game, the teams, league president Ross Chapman, Women's Institute for assistance and, finally the fans who rallied to the cause.

Ladies Here Tonight In Finals Opener

Barrie and district softball title will go on the block tonight. Midland Parkside will move in on the S.S. school diamond to engage our lasses in the first of the finals. The game is called for six o'clock. Mr. Frank Courtney had advice late Wednesday morning to this effect and the return game will be up for conclusion at Midland Saturday. The fan following is expected to

Forts Take Lions Two Straight

Say it ain't so. After running up a six-straight victory string, our Lions ran into their first defeat in O.B.A. competition Saturday at Fort Erie. Our lads — not at their best by any means — met a strong Fort team and came away on the short end of a 15-2 count. Jerry Simmons, elected by Coach Bill Haskett to take the mound, in that first frame, couldn't find the dish. He put three aboard via the free pass route before any Forts were retired. Jerry then got winging them in and Lions with some fine infield work held the Forts to a single tally.

The Lions wasted no time getting on even terms. They did in the second, third-sacker Don Duncan opening with a single, moved up a base on a steal, and cashed in on Harold Stevenson's clean single. The game rolled along all even until the fifth. Then the Forts broke loose, profiting by three Newmarket miscues and four hits to knock in six runs. After that wild throws, infield errors, were the order of the day so far as our forces went. After Catcher Bill Hillaby, the Lions lone receiver, ran into an injury to his throwing arm, it was all over but the shouting.

The Forts, incidentally sponsored by their Lions club, scored three in their sixth and five in the seventh. "Ortie" Thoms taking over on the mound in the sixth served up two home-run pitches that gave the Forts five of the 11 runs he allowed. The Lions counted their second run in the sixth without benefit of a hit. Ortie Thoms reaching first on an error and galloping the rest of the journey on a stolen base and an infield out.

Those usually potent bats of the Lions were all but silenced by Fort Erie's pitcher, Pierre Pilotte. The latter relying mostly on a fast ball whiffed, 14 of our boys. The Lions checked in with four hits, three singles, one each by Don Duncan, Harold Stevenson and Bill Hillaby, Alvin McKnight walloping the seventh. "Ortie" Thoms only extra base blow a double.

Dodgers Win Midget Softball Crown

After a two months' lapse, because of the summer vacation period, the midget softball league got cooking with their finals last week. When the league shut down earlier, the Dodgers and Braves had earned championship tries. Tuesday night, the opening gun was fired in the final series, billed as a two-of-three set-to. In the series opener, the Braves stepped in front early and stayed there. They were up 14-5 when darkness called a halt. The game was ruled no contest and stricken from the records.

Friday, the Dodgers showing a new lease on life, came back strong to record a 9-5 triumph to draw first blood in the series. "Ding" Mair bested the Braves tosser, Ted Taylor, to chalk up a win. Taylor brought most of the trouble on his own head with a round of walks.

Monday night, the Dodgers "dood" it" again, taking the Braves into camp 12-2 and annexing the championship — and worthy champions they are. "Ding" Mair was once again on the winning end of the pitching, helped considerably by some lusty hitting by his teammates. Ron Coveney, with a couple of mates on the runways, drove out a solid four-base knock for the long hit of the evening.

The champions, Dodgers, captained by Robert Dick: W. Mair, B. Forhan, R. Dick, B. Burch, B. Keffer, R. Coveney, B. Townsley, B. Wheeler, M. McCaffrey, B. Langford.

Runners-up, Braves, captained by Don Brice: J. Sweeney, D. Lyons, J. Rideout, T. Taylor, L. Wass, D. Brice, T. Scott, J. Staley, W. Cain, J. Insley.

reach record proportions in this series, which is billed as a best two-in-three saw-off.

Old Timers Bow To Young Midgets

Rocking chair got you? Midgets 5, Old Timers 4. Yes sir, those Old Timers hoisted themselves out of their restraints and semi-retirement to coax a few more runs out of the old system Wednesday evening. Not counting pulled muscles and crooked fingers, the Midgets had eased out a 6-4 win. Counting these ailments at a run each, it was Old Timers 4, Midgets 5.

Now not offering any alibis for the oldsters—we know we shouldn't mention it—but it's the first time to our knowledge the younger fry ever won out over the oldsters. We'll stand correct-

The Lions, our first and last hope for a ball title, dropped from the O.B.A. race Wednesday afternoon at Pantry Park. They were buried beneath a battery of base hits from the bats of the visiting Fort Erie crew, who romped to a 15-5 triumph. That gave the invaders the series in two straight.

A savage 17-hit attack was uncorked on three of the Lions hurlers, "Ortie" Thoms, Jerry Simmons and Harold Stephenson. The Lions for their part combed Ken Atwood, the Forts' pitcher, for ten base knocks. Atwood however kept them fairly well scattered, allowing the Lions their first run in the fourth, two in the sixth, one in the seventh and final tally in the ninth. The Forts insured their victory in the seventh with a four-run spree and went for six in the eighth.

"Ortie" Thoms and Harold Stephenson were the heavy clouters for the Lions with three each. Jack Donaldson, out for the first time in several weeks, shared the catching burden with Bill Hillaby. Ken Atwood, the visiting moundsman, as well as striking out 14 of our lads, led his mates at the plate with a triple and a pair of doubles.

Simcoe Oust Aurora From O.B.A. Play-Offs

Aurora juniors bowed out of the 1948 OBA play-offs on Saturday afternoon before the largest crowd of the year as Bruce Pearce's Simcoe Reformers scored their second straight win of the series 11-7. In going down to defeat, Leonard Simmons' boys covered themselves with glory. It was simply a case of the better team winning out.

Simcoe now meets Dresden and the winner of that series will meet Cananogue in the finals. It was the furthest an Aurora team has progressed in many years.

Last Wednesday, backed by some superb pitching by right hander Doug Young, Simcoe whitewashed Aurora 5-0 in the Norfolk County metropolis. Actually Aurora garnered one more hit than Simcoe but Ron Simmons' fine performance of three-hit pitching went for naught as errors combined to put Aurora behind the eight ball all the way. Truth to tell with the breaks Aurora might have taken the contest at more than one stage.

At Aurora on Saturday, manager Simmons nominated south-paw Norm Stunden to take the mound and the portside shoots of the blonde Richmond Hill boy were right in the Simcoe alley as they teed-off with a barrage of blows and with the Aurora infield jittery by the assault, it was 5-0 at the end of the first

Penalties Heavy As Newmarket Ousted

In the mightiest display of scrapping, Newmarket lacrosse squad faded from the O.L.A. lacrosse race Friday evening. They went down and out before Maple 13-4. The semi-final series went to Maple in two straight. It was by long odds the roughest and most penalty-strewn contest of the season.

At one time in that merry third period, our squad was holding the fort in front of their netminder, Harold Shugg, with two men. Maple wasn't much better off as they had only four men on the floor. In all 24 penalties were dished out, 12 each, eight of these being assessed for five minutes as sticks were tossed aside and fists started to fly. In the final session, slightly better from a penalty standpoint, four players, two from each side, with eight minutes remaining, got the gale for the remainder of the tilt for extra slatcutting.

Once again, as in previous "do's", one period wrote finish to Newmarket hopes. This time it was the third as Maple rammed in six markers, the visitors' Stan Foster being the chief gloom spreader with three. At that,

Cyclists Prepare For Thanksgiving Race

Aurora Cycle Club have final arrangements well in hand for the 25-mile cycle open road race to be held in and around Aurora on Thanksgiving Day. There won't be any scarcity of competition as riders are expected from all parts of Southern Ontario. They'll be on hand from Hamilton, Oshawa, Delhi, Toronto, and as far distant as Montreal. Aurora and Newmarket riders will endeavor to hold their own with the visiting wheelmen. Bob Benville, local speedster, after announcing his retirement recently, has got the bug again and will take another crack at this race. Here's luck.

Aurora Legion Plans Town Cribbage League

Aurora—Under the sponsorship of Aurora branch 385, Canadian Legion, a town cribbage league will be formed this fall. A. W. "Shorty" Heard is the Legion representative and he wants to hear from interested groups. It is expected that the Legion, Sisman's, Collis Leather, firemen, Hart Manufacturing, Merchants and others will provide teams. It is Mr. Heard's intention to call a public meeting in this connection shortly and in the interim he requests word so that no interested persons will be overlooked.

Era and Express classifieds bring results.

Twisters Have Lead In Hoffman Finals

Hoffman softballers reached the crucial stage this week. Benville's Ramblers and Van-Zant's Drill Twisters opened the finals Tuesday evening. When the uproar had died away the Drill Twisters, right now on a victory run, had taken a game lead, as they punched out a 26-9 win. The Drill Twisters need one more victory in the best two out of three final series to cop top honors.

Tuesday evening, until the Drill Twisters had their prosperous fifth, it was a fairly even contest. The score stood at Drill Twisters 9, Ramblers 6. Then the decline set in for the Ramblers. Led by Hank Van-Zant, who crossed the plate three times in that big frame, the Drill Twisters with everybody getting into the hitting act put over 17 runs, and the game was in the bag. Along with the heavy clubbing of the Drillers, the Ramblers tossed in a bushel of errors as their fielding fell apart. You'll be setting a record to beat that kind of run production.

The brunt of the Drill Twisters' hitting power fell on the shoulders of "Hutch" Hutchinson and Capt. Bob Benville as they split the hurling chore.

Bob Murray went the route for the Drillers. The second game of the finals is up for settlement tonight at the fair grounds. Last Thursday Ramblers put the skids under the Hoffman herd as they romped through the semi-final set in two straight. The final score read Ramblers 24, Herd 8.

The teams: Drill Twisters: Bryson, Proud, Murray, Blight, LeShien, Coates, Smalley, Jones, VanZant; Ramblers: Hutchinson, Boag, Higginson, Codlin, Beattie, Duncan; Herd: Code, Daniels, Hamilton, Ruddock, Porritt, McLean, Duncan Beattie, Benville.

Lawn bowlers interested in continuing the game through the winter are asked to attend the organization meeting at Dixon's Pencil Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. to prepare for the coming season.

Down the Centre — with Ab. Hulse

It's all over so far as the North York baseball season is concerned. Milton whacked belabbers out of Stouffville in two straight contests and Earl Cook and his playmates have put their uniforms in mothballs. After playing exhibition games all year Stouffville ousted Cambray, winners of the tri-county league, but found they were no match for the Halton county lads. "Cookie" pitched one game himself and Orval Rows, Porky Schell and Hocus-Focus Miller worked for Stouffville in the other. Miller is the big first-sacker who was sent to third this season and then took over pitching duties and acquainted himself well in a new role. By the way, whatever became of "Ready-for-Freddy" Schepelman who pitched such good ball in junior? The press triumphed in the Simcoe-Aurora series as editor Bruce Pearce of the Simcoe News-Reformer led his juniors to a two straight victory. Pearce has no less than seven of the lads in his employment. Simcoe is a smart little club and while trophies are no new thing to the News-Reformer, we bet that Mr. Pearce will bust a button off his vest if his young smoothies win the OBA honors. They'll probably run a special edition.

Leonard Simmons and his hard-working Aurora-Newmarket ball club need not feel ashamed on the season. They did pretty well and the breaks went all against them in the final series. Lost a junior company for next year are red Palmateer, Eric Smith and Grant Blight. The rest will all be able to play in the age series in 1949 and there are plenty of good reinforcements available. Mac Clement, the portly catcher, failed to hit his stride in the final series and his potent bat was sadly missed. Clement has banged out a couple of homers in the Aurora park this year which were almost as long as these eyes have seen and we've been watching the ball travel in the Aurora park as a player, spectator and arbiter for more years than we wish to remember. Dooley Butler once dropped one right on the road in Metcalfe street, clearing the fence. Phil Overend (Brother Phillip of De La Salle), Pol. Parkins, ex-Newmarket player, and Roy Gifford are others we recall hitting the ball as far as did Clement. One drive was within ten feet of right centre fence.

Deletions perhaps helped Aurora lose the series more than anything else. Did you ever stop to figure how nice it would have been to see Jack Andrews, the south-paw sensation of '47 Gerry Atcheson, the ex-Oakville righthander, and Loring Doolittle, the hard-hitting outfielder, in action with Aurora? Jack pitched superb ball in Toronto-Owen Sound and Embro this summer. Atcheson had the best strike-out record in the North Toronto Junior A loop and Doolittle ended the year with a .320 batting average. "Dooey" tied for leadership in the home run department with eight and led the league with 64 runs batted in. We are not detracting from the rest of the lads when we say this trio would have helped a lot. Oakville juveniles ousted Markham juveniles in the second round of the OBA and they are natural successors to last year's winners, Milton, who hail from the same circuit. Newmarket Midgets, another example of the "win-win" spirit, made a great showing this year and are a credit to Bill Haskett and their supporters. The kids have everything but experience.
